

- 1 Identify adults and students around you who you know pray, and ask them to pray for this particular Bible study.
- 2 Invite prayer partners to pray through the length of the study. They could even meet and pray during your study sessions!
- 3 Provide detail to your prayer team so that they can pray specifically. Share things like:
  - the names of your students.
  - the day and time of your sessions.
  - the unique needs of your group (busyness, spiritual hunger, spiritual apathy, distractions).
- 4 Share these prayers from Scripture that could be prayed on behalf of your group:
  - Ephesians 1:17-19
  - Ephesians 3:16-21
  - Colossians 4:12
- 5 If it's okay with your students, pass along contact info and ask your prayer partners to send an occasional note.
- 6 Name your prayer partner team something more creative than "prayer partner team."
- 7 In one of your study sessions ask students to sign cards expressing their thanks for the prayer. Make copies (or have students sign multiple cards) and send them to each prayer partner. You could do this via e-mail as well.
- 8 As you go through the study, share with your prayer team the "Wow!" moments you and your students have in God's Word.
- 9 Pray for your prayer team! Add your prayer partners to your personal prayer list.
- 10 After you finish, ask if they'll pray for your next study!
