

INWORD Bible Football Team

It's pretty simple. Ask your group this question: If you were to build a football team (or even an entire football operation) using Bible people, who would you put in what positions? As soon as you get your first idea you're off and running, but if you need some ideas, check out the list below. The answers came from a middle school Bible study group.

TEAM

- Quarterback: Jesus (of course; he's always the QB)
- Running Backs: Jacob, he has good fakes
Paul, he runs all over the place
- Wide Receivers: Andrew, James, John; they're fisherman;
they can catch anything
- Offensive Line: Esau, Samson, Goliath (who cares that he's a Philistine, he's big)
- Defensive Line: Joshua, he breaks through walls
- Middle Linebacker: Peter, he's a rock
- Field Goal Kickers: Shadrach, Meshach or Abednego; they can take the heat

SUPPORT

- Water Boy: John the Baptist
- Cheerleaders: Mary, Martha, Mary Magdalene
- Halftime Band: Angels and David on his harp
- Mascot: Lion (of Judah)
- Mascot Keeper: Noah, but you need to have two mascots

OPERATIONS

- Owner: God
- Coach: King Solomon, he's so wise
- Team Doctor: Luke, the physician
- Head Referee: Moses, he knows all the rules
- Ticket Taker: Matthew, good with numbers as a tax guy

DON'T want on the team

- Zaccheus : Too small
- Judas: He may score for the other team
- Jonah: He'd get eaten up by the competition
- Adam: He doesn't have a uniform; insists on playing naked
- Pilate: Too influenced by the other team
- Thief on the cross Had a chance, and he blew it
